

Designers' Saturday

08.—10.09
Oslo, 2023

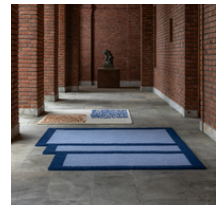

About

Designers' Saturday is Norway's largest and most important meeting place and leading platform for design and architecture. DS presents a broad range of furnishing products for the contract and hospitality sectors that will inspire you, and the event is a fun and social meeting place uniting professionals from the industry. Friday and Saturday are trade days, with open showrooms all over the city of Oslo. There are free buses between the showrooms on Saturday. On Sunday, parts of the exhibition will be open to the public. In addition to the open showrooms, these are some of the initiatives that you can experience during DS 2023:

Initiatives

DS Collab

A program that connects manufacturers with designers to develop innovative products. DS Collab will unveil and showcase these groundbreaking collaborations and brand-new products at Oslo Event Hub.

DS Unika

An exclusive exhibition consisting of thirty-one of Norway's most recognized designers will exhibit and auction off unique, one-of-a-kind objects. The exhibition takes place at Bankplassen.

DS Awards

"Best Talent" recognizes the most talented, up-and-coming students and recently graduated designers. "Best Interior" honours the best project among the interior design offices. The finalists' work will be showcased at Oslo Event Hub.

Academy Exhibitions

Six Norwegian universities will showcase their students' best design and interior projects with support from the Norwegian Culture Council. The exhibition takes place at Oslo Event Hub.

DS Talks

The professional program features a variety of design lectures and captivating panel discussions, with renowned names like Bouroullec, Häberli, Lex, Pott, Christophe Guberan, Helena Sandman, and Jay Gort. Takes place at Bankplassen.

Saturday Night Party

Saturday Night Party is a grand celebration of the design industry featuring live music and an award ceremony for "Best Talent" and "Best Interior". The party will take place at Telegrafan, Oslo.
